

MOVING TO CANADA

Your Guide to a Trump-Free Country

Adrian Raeside

Moving to Canada. A Guide to a Trump-Free Country

It's cold and snows all the time.

Wrong. It only snows for six months of the year, which is good, as it kills off the mosquitos.

Everybody is a lumberjack.

Wrong. We used to be until we cut all the trees down and sent them south to build homes in Atlanta.

We only care about hockey.

Wrong. We also care about curling.

We are too polite.

Wrong. And if you don't believe that, cut off one of us at an intersection during rush hour.

We can ice skate before we can walk.

Wrong. Some of us can ski before we walk.

We all talk like Inspector Clouseau.

Wrong. Only in Quebec – and only for the benefit of tourists.

End every sentence with ‘eh.’

Wrong. We end every second sentence with eh, eh.

We’re lousy tippers.

Wrong. We’re just lousy at math.

Our politics are boring.

Actually, correct. But isn’t that the reason you want to move here?

We have no sense of humor.

Wrong. We sent you Justin Bieber and Celine Dion and we’re still laughing our asses off over that.

©Hairy Dog Productions, inc. movingtocanada.lol

USA-MEXICO BORDER

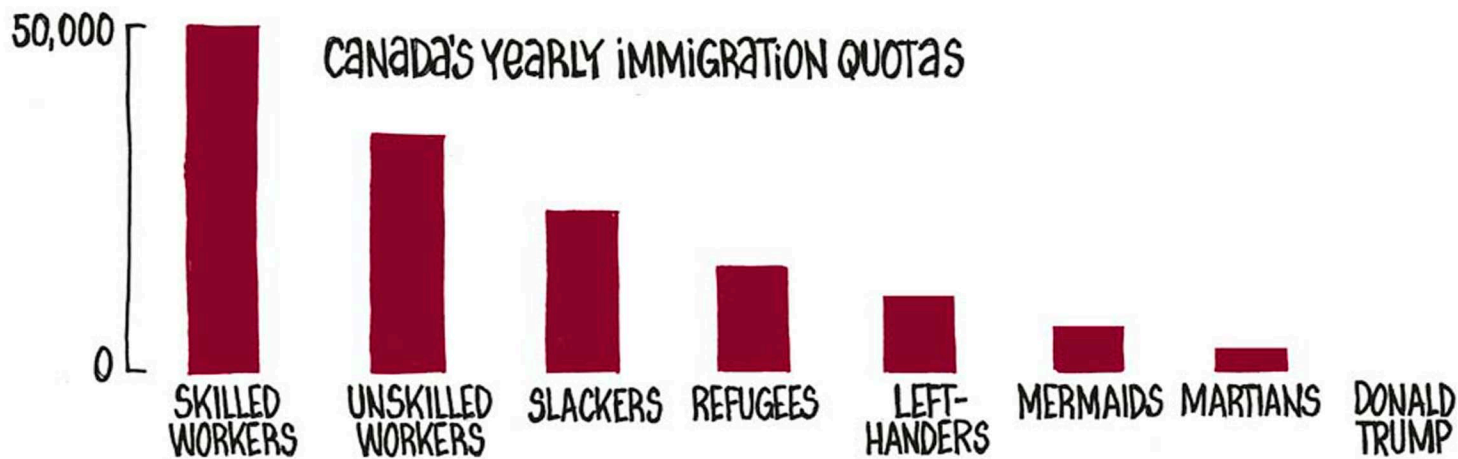

ARMED BORDER PATROL OFFICER

USA-CANADA BORDER

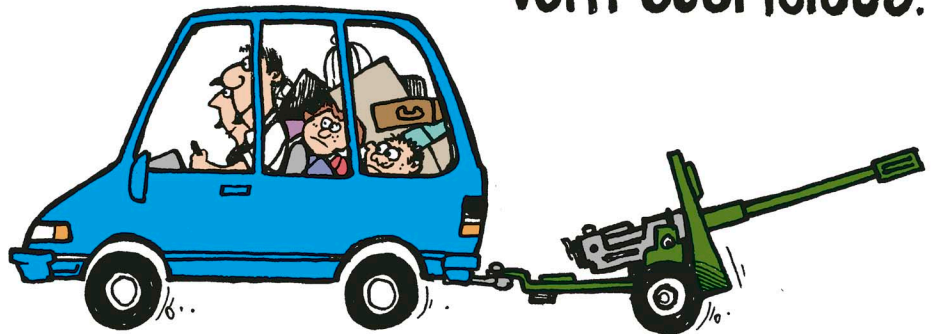

MOOSE TURD

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU BRING WITH YOU...
CANADA CUSTOMS ARE TRAINED TO SPOT TELL-TALE
SIGNS OF GUNS BEING SNEAKED ACROSS THE BORDER.

SUSPICIOUS.

VERY SUSPICIOUS.